Local residents sign to donate blood Feb. 1

Need hundred more to make second day

The good folk of Arlington Heights, Mt. Prospect and Wheeling and Prospect Heights, have gone "over the top," in the blood donor drive and enough people have signed up to warrant having the blood donor unit here a second time in February, if a scant hundred more are signed up. The drive for the additional donors is now on, and any one who has not signed up through an organization, is urged to contact the donor chairman, Mrs. Paul Gilson, tel. 2040, immediately.

As the paper goes to press 355 people have signed up to contribute and fifty men who signed up have been given Chicago appointments. 420 donors are needed to make it possible to have the service the second day, and the committee in charge is so confident that this goal can be reached, that February 15 has been set for the second day of donor service here. Red Cross headquarters have complimented the area on their splendid cooperation in this extremely important phase of the war work.

Cards will be in the mail this week, to those who will be given appointments for the February 1 donor service, and if the appointment can not be kept, the donor is asked to call the chairman, Mrs. Paul Gilson, tel. 2040 immediately. Cards will soon be in the mail for those who will be donors on February 15.

Full directions to observe will be printed on the appointment cards, and the donors are asked to comply with these in all manner, as they will have to be rejected if they do not do so.

Those having small children, that cannot be left at home may bring them to the field house where they will have supervision while their mothers are there.

The directions follow:

1. If donor is pregnant or has had a child within the last nine months, she can not be accepted.

2. Donors should wait at least six months following a major operation.

3. If donor is suffering from an active cold, please postpone appointment.

4. You must weigh not less than 110 lbs.

5. You may eat a full meal four hours prior to appointment. After this meal you must NOT eat any fats or fatty foods such as milk, cream, cheese, butter, meat, eggs, ice cream, nuts, salad oils, fish, fried foods, mayonnaise or peanut butter. However, do not fast before donating your blood. Eat a light meal of dry toast or crackers and jelly (NO BUTTER), coffee or tea (NO CREAM OR MILK), and all fruits.

A certain number of rejections is found at each donor service, so it is imperative that nearly a hundred more be signed up to assure the total required for the two days service. All who have signed up are urged to contact another, that the donor service will have a full quota for the second day.

The people of the community have truly shown they are backing the boys at the front.

O.D.T. limits truck tire OK's to Des Plaines

Rationing boards of Wheeling, Mt. Prospect, Prospect Heights and Arlington Heights were notified Tuesday evening that starting at once there will be only one official truck tire inspection station for that area. It will be at the Hess Tire and Battery shop, Des Plaines. The centralization of truck tire inspections has been made advisable, stated the Chicago officials, because of the few available truck tires and the necessity of a more rigid control of new tire permits.

A representative of the office of the OPA will visit the Hess station every five days to personally inspect tires for which renewals are being asked.

The individual applications with the approvals of the Chicago office will then be placed on file with the local boards who will issue the tires in accordance with the quota that has been allowed to the district.

For some time applications for "c" gas coupons have only been issued by the Chicago OPA office to which they are sent by all truck users.

Buy home in Sherwood

Willard Pate has purchased a home in Sherwood at 1112 No. Harvard to which he has moved from 414 E. Fremont. The brokers were Jacobson and Harold Willson and associate.

Production units in candlelight musical

A very fine program has been arranged for the candlelight musical which is being given by the Arlington Heights production units on January 30, in the field house from four to six o'clock.

Mr. D. G. Costain, head of the music department of the high school will present the string ensemble, the girls triple trio, and the mixed chorus from the school. These groups are greatly enjoyed wherever they appear, and the unit feels most fortunate to have them for this program. The mixed chorus is a new group in the school this year and its work is already receiving outstanding notice.

Miss Virginia Kral, a graduate of the Northwestern University School of Speech and speech teacher in the high school here, will give a group of humorous readings.

Miss Mary Ann Eiler, talented young singer will also appear on the program.

Tea will be served following the program at tables appropriately decorated with red and white flowers and red candles. Mrs. Ira Parker, Mrs. A. M. Conger, Mrs. Wm. Lackner, Mrs. Fred Mueller, Mrs. Mark Cleaver, Mrs. Kenneth

New OPA orders aim to kill black market in gas

The local ration board has received new orders which are so stringent that they are expected to kill the black market in gas. They at least will give a headache to gas stations which accept gas coupons that are not properly endorsed. The new program was announced to rationing boards as follows:

"We are instituting a new program which we believe will enable us to wipe out the 'Black Market' in gasoline in this area.

The first step in the enforcement of this program will be the insistence that all holders of gasoline rationing, immediately upon the receipt of such ration from you, properly endorse the coupons in ink or indelible pencil. We have notified all gasoline distributors that, after January 29, 1944, they will not be able to deposit in their ration bank accounts, coupons which are not properly endorsed. Such distributors will be obliged to obtain valid coupons from their dealers for each invalid coupon surrendered, in order to maintain their bank balance. This will mean that, for every invalid or improperly endorsed coupon a dealer receives, his inventory will be reduced by the amount of gallonage represented by such invalid coupons. In no event is the board permitted to issue replacement coupons to such a dealer and his inventory will thus be permanently lowered.

"As you can easily see, the success of this program requires the cooperation of the individual consumer. On or about February 1, each board will receive a supply of printed cards to be given to each individual who receives mileage ration from your board. This card will be printed in colors and will read 'Important! Immediately write in ink or indelible pencil your car license number and state of registration on the face of each coupon. Otherwise coupons are invalid and may be revoked. Endorsement protects you and helps lick the Black Market."

Under the new regulations, Colonel Armstrong, state director of Illinois selective service stated, "no selectee may be inducted after February 1, 1944, unless he has previously been physically examined at the induction station. After each man is examined, the induction station authorities will determine whether the registrant is acceptable for (1) general service in the Army, (2) limited service in the Army, or (3) general service in the Navy. If a registrant is not qualified for acceptance, his local board may reclassify him to Class IV-F.

"The new plan makes it possible for a registrant to find out whether or not he is to be called for military duty. If he is found acceptable, he will be returned to his local board and be given a period of at least three weeks after pre-induction examination in which to clean up his business and personal affairs before actual induction at an Army reception center or a Navy recruiting station. Men selected for the Marine Corps and Coast Guard are included in the Navy's quota. The previous practice of granting furloughs after induction will be discontinued commencing February 1.

"Local boards, under the new regulations, do not give a registrant a local board screening examination unless specially requested by the registrant or unless a physical or mental defect is obvious to a board member or the clerk.

"Registrants whose induction is considered imminent may be sent for a pre-induction physical examination even before they are reclassified to Class I-A. However, the personal appearance before the local board and appeal rights of these registrants will be fully protected, and a registrant whose appeal has been granted will not be ordered for induction at the usual time, but will be deferred according to the board of appeal classification.

"Normally, a registrant would be inducted approximately thirty days after he receives his notice to appear for pre-induction examination.

Howard Paul Carroll, head of all of the units here will preside over the affair, and two members of each unit will serve on the hospitality committee.

Two girl scouts from each of the four troops in the village will serve as check girls at the affair.

The committee in charge of arrangements is as follows: Mrs. Alva Meyer, chairman, Mrs. Willis Hubbard, assistant chairman, and representing Thursday Unit, Mrs. Schowolow, Lutheran group, Mrs. C. I. Davis, southside group, Mrs. V. Thorsen and Mrs. Goss, Hillside group, Mrs. Albert Bauer, Presbyterian group, and Mrs. Kenneth Siebberg, surgical dressing groups.

When Wm. F. Meyer, Jr. came home on furlough last week, he was a corporal. Two days later he received this message from a pal, reading:

"That long overdue promotion finally cleared the channels today. So you can see them now. Mother will probably get stuck with the job. Here's hoping that you are enjoying your furlough to the nth degree. Sgt. Leland E. Jones, Headquarters battery 284th F. A. Bn, Camp Rucker, Alabama."

In plain English Will is now a sergeant. He will be home until Saturday.

The regular meeting and dinner of the Arlington Heights Lions club, was held January 18 in the dining room of the local Lutheran school. The business of the evening was disposed of in the usual manner. The club was very fortunate in obtaining, as the speaker, Rev. Killian S. J. through the co-operation of member H. A. Hastings. Rev. Killian has spent about sixteen years as missionary in India, returning to this country shortly after the outbreak of war in that land. In all probability he will return to that country, after the war, and continue his mission work.

At the next stated meeting the club will have as a guest W. T. McKinney, from the southern part of Illinois who will talk on the appropriate subject of Abraham Lincoln. All members are asked to be on hand.

Plentie & Behrens have sold seven homes in ten days. "It is easy to sell but hard to find the homes to buy," J. D. Plentie told the Herald. When asked how he found them, Carl Behrens said, "I find them as a Jew street peddler. When I have a buyer I try ringing door bells until I find a home that meets the requirements of my customer. And it works, too."

120 pts. for pork bought direct from farmers

Twelve red stamps in War Ration Book Four, with a total value of 120 points, were validated January 17 for the buying of pork and other rationed meats from farmers. This will give consumers ample ration points for buying meat — particularly pork — from farmers who want to slaughter their hogs on the farm and market them in the form of fresh meat. OPA has always provided that the meat stamps in any one ration book could be used ahead of their regular validity dates for farm slaughter purchases. As relatively few points remain in Book 3, however, it is thought advisable to make some points from Book 4 good for this purpose.

The advance use of stamps, it was explained at the Local War Price and Rationing Board, does not give the individual who buys from a farm slaughterer a larger meat ration than anyone else. It merely allows the individual buying from a farmer to follow the normal practice of buying fairly large amounts at one time. At the same time, it encourages farmers to slaughter on their farm, thus cutting down the number of hogs coming into the congested markets. The red stamps in Book four which may now be used for buying meat from farm slaughterers are those numbered "S" and lettered from "A" through "M". These stamps are worth 10 points each, making a total of 120 points.

In addition, the brown stamps in war ration Book Three may be used ahead of their regular validity dates when buying from farmers. This means that the 96 brown points remaining in Book 3, and which are for use between now and February 27, may be spent in one block when rationed meat is bought from a farmer.

"Point-Free" Women's Shoes till February 5: Retail shoe stores are being given an extra week — thru February 5 — to make ration-free sales of limited quantities of women's shoes at $3 or less a pair. Retailers had been granted a two-week period, January 17 thru 29, for the ration-free sales. The action is expected to provide ample time for retail establishments to sell the allowed 15 percent of their January inventories of women's shoes ration-free.

After the presentation of awards and a word of welcome to the new Bobcats an exhibition was put on by the Bell Telephone Co. It was very interesting and showed us how to use the telephone properly and what we should do under certain circumstances.

The project for this next month is to be handicraft. Every Cub is to make something for the dinner table at the Father and Son banquet Feb. 21. The seating space for the banquet is limited, so if you haven't gotten your tickets yet, be sure and do so immediately. The entertainment will be very good and the announcement of the leading act will be made soon.

It's rumored that Den 3 will soon have a play in rehearsal. The boy's plan on presenting the play at a Pack meeting in the near future. An artist has been discovered in this Den. It is none other than Don Hesch. You should have heard him play the piano and pass music. Even in the rest of the Den had to sing while he played. Denner Harold Hodge conducted the recreation period and Keeper of the Buckskin Eddie Hunsicker surprised everyone by writing the minutes in duplicate.

Den No. 3 had 100% attendance at the last Pack meeting and is going to continue this way every meeting.

Rifle course

Future draftees are urged to take the pre-induction marksmanship rifle training course offered by the Arlington Heights Rifle club.

The course is basic and has been developed by the National Rifle Association in cooperation with the War Department. Its purpose is to give those entering the services a fundamental knowledge of firearms. Since the fighting man's very life depends upon his knowledge of his gun, the importance of such training is obvious.

The instruction is being given by men with considerable experience in the Marines, Navy, Army and Coast Guard. Use of the range, guns and other equipment is donated by the club. The enrollment fee of 75c covers books, ammunition, certificates, etc., for the eight lessons.

Those interested may call Geo. Goewey, Arlington Heights 1860 or B. L. Cochrane, 327-J.

Public library is again open

Arlington Heights public library reopened Wednesday after being closed ten days to allow decorators to complete their work. New light fixtures have been installed. New shelving is on the way and it looks like a new library.

More space is needed for library quarters but lacking the additional room the library board is making maximum use of the available space.

Mrs. Baxter, librarian, reports that war books are the most popular today although every book published that has merit is added to the library. This is made possible by the funds received from the rental shelf.

Tomato yields 150 sewing needles

Mrs. Nels Rundgren, 300 E. McDonald rd., Prospect Heights did not expect her "tomato" crop to yield as much as it did. This tomato in question is a red tomato pin cushion which holds all her needles and pins.

The other night she was looking for a certain size needle, and also remarked at the time that she wondered what happened to all her needles — she thought she had an adequate supply on hand. There were three needles sticking in the cushion at that time, and by further exploration she discovered the points of several needles which were imbedded in the cushion. She tried to take them out and some of them, which were in the green center of the tomato, stubbornly refused to come out. She then decided to slit the cushion in order to get them out.

This she did, and then emptied the sawdust on a piece of paper. She saw a great many needles in the center, and curiosity got the better of her so she decided to count them. She counted out 170 needles, ranging in size from a one inch fine sewing needle to a large sized darning one.

This cushion was about 15 years old, and judging by the number of needles and their positions, it appeared as though they were drawn together by a magnet of some sort. They say a needle works its way into things and that certainly must have been true in this case.

Substitutions in prescriptions

"There is no excuse, moral or otherwise, for dispensing something other than that which the physician directs." So writes an editor of a druggists' magazine, typifying thereby the code of the conscientious druggist.

In no other field are there more opportunities, unknown to the customer, to supply a substitute than in the prescription laboratory of a retail drug store.

This is not the only open winter

Since writing this story the thermometer shot skyward Tuesday to 52 and Wednesday to 58, a record breaker.

The present month of warm weather is not the only warm January we have experienced, says Dr. B. T. Best and he ought to know because he has kept a daily temperature record for a period of 23 years.

At the request of the Herald he herewith presents some figures. The highest temperature reached since January, 1921 was on Jan. 14, 1928 with 55 degrees. There are some more interesting figures, a temperature of fifty degrees during January has only occurred six times and has not yet been reached in 1944. The thermometer passed the fifty mark one time each in 1921, 1922, 1928, 1932, 1933 and 1935. Temperatures in the forties are more usual, but only occurred in addition to the six years above mentioned only in four years, 1921, 1934, 1937, 1938 and this year.

The weather has reached 45 degrees or warmer only 27 times in the 23 years. The dates are:

1921—	1934—
Jan. 3 45	Jan. 21 45
Jan. 20 49	Jan. 22 45
Jan. 21 52	Jan. 24 45
1922—	Jan. 27 47
Jan. 18 50 1937—	Jan. 8 45
1928—	Jan. 10 45 1938—
Jan. 14 55 1939—	Jan. 27 47
1932—	Jan. 13 52 Jan. 5 55
Jan. 28 49 Jan. 9 50	Jan. 24 46 Jan. 26 58

"For he's a jolly good fellow"

Fire chief R. H. Jahn tries to keep the other fellow out of trouble. Two local residents either forgetting or not hearing about the ban on grass fires started blazes the past week that gained such headway that the chief and a few volunteers put out the blaze. Chief Jahn made no official report and saved the gentlemen from an arrest.

One of the fires burned over a large area south of the track between the Thermaltite factory and Scarsdale. The other was near the high school.

The fire chief was all dressed up when he received word of the first fire, "but what is a new excuse to a fireman," were his only words.

REMEMBER?

Last summer when your water pipes were dripping moisture, your storage tanks and water softeners were wet with condensation? Sure you do. Well, now is the time to relieve that condition while the pipes are dry. A few hours of time will be well spent by applying a coat of NO-DRIP to the pipes and fixtures that you remember as trouble makers.

NO-DRIP is a Plastic Cork Coating that is applied over any pipe, tank, wall or duct that is subject to condensation (sweating). The NO-DRIP treatment guarantees a completely dry surface at any time.

Wounded as Nazi Plane Strafs Ship

Wounded by a 20 mm. bullet from the gun of a Messerschmidt 109, which strafed his ship in the Bay of Naples Nov. 25 last, Lt. Junior Grade Robert Doran, US MS, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Doran of Roselle, arrived home last week. He had spent nearly two years in the U. S. Maritime Service, most of it on water and on calls at foreign ports. After resting up a bit here, he intends to report again for active duty where he wants to serve until hostilities cease.

When wounded, Lt. Doran was serving on a 10,400 ton Liberty ship, one of a group engaged in supply service for U. S. troops in the Naples region. The run was from supply ports in North Africa to the combat area. Some 30 M-109's attacked them while in Naples harbor, flying low strafing with 20 mm. guns. A bullet went through his body, entering the abdomen and passing out near the lower spine. It touched neither vital organs or bones with the consequence that he appears to be pretty well on the mend. As a souvenir of this incident he has a 20 mm. shell, a formidable piece of destruction seven or eight inches long, identical with the one that nearly cost him his life. He left the hospital Dec. 21.

Lt. Doran, though but 23, has spent nearly four years in the service of his country. He joined the naval aviation service in 1938 as a radio man and was stationed at Pearl Harbor. He was injured in June, 1940, when his plane, a PBY, crashed. He was hospitalized until November and then discharged from the service.

In January, 1942, he entered the Merchant Marine and began his training at Kingspoint, Long Island. In July of the same year he went to sea as an Ensign and spent months in the Caribbean.

His ship was engaged in the bauxite trade and called at most of the principal Caribbean ports of Central and South America. During this period the Caribbean was infested with marauding subs and it was not an uncommon experience to have to run the gauntlet of gunfire and torpedoes.

In 1943, Lt. Doran was transferred to the Atlantic and Mediterranean service. He sailed from an eastern port for an unknown destination and arrived in the Mediterranean.

His biggest thrill came, he says, on his recent return aboard the Empress of Scotland when he first set foot on the solid ground of the U.S.A. Lt. Doran wears service bars for service at sea in the Mediterranean, Atlantic and Pacific. He is not permitted to reveal the nature of his Pacific service, he declares.

WHITE FOR SUNTANS

Rev. W. C. Monroe of Woodstock was a Sunday guest in the J. S. Monroe home.

Word has been received in the village of the birth of a son to Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Glave of Richmond, Virginia. The Glaves formerly lived in Arlington Heights and Mt. Prospect. The new son is the fifth one in the family. The other boys are Bill, Jim, John and Dick. This new fellow will soon be taught "how to take it" with four brothers about. Mrs. Glave, Sr., left the village of Tuesday morning for Richmond and will remain with the Glave family for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Midell were hosts to fifteen relatives from Chicago for dinner on Saturday evening.

Rev. and Mrs. Milo J. Vondracek and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Atkinson and daughter, Barbara, were Sunday dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Stockdale.

Mrs. Clarence Horcher entertained the members of the Secret Pals club at a one o'clock luncheon on Friday afternoon, honoring her birthday. The group enjoyed an afternoon of games.

Laurel Midell, Maurel Lawrence, Jean Blackburn, Lynn Patrick, Gordon Allison, Gordon Carncross and Bill Stockdale attended the Youth Fellowship rally held in the Chicago Temple on Sunday evening. They were accompanied by Mr. Paul Conklin and Rev. Milo J. Vondracek.

Miss Ruth Held celebrated her twentieth birthday on Friday evening, when a group of sixteen friends came in to enjoy the occasion with her. The celebration was a particularly happy one as Ruth is now almost entirely well, following her serious accident in the summer. The group spent the evening playing bocce and birthday refreshments were served.

STRIPES FOREVER

—Courtesy New York Dress Institute

It's never too early to get into that basic striped dress for office wear or shopping, spring or southern practicality. This style in gray and white from a New York designer sports a deep red carnation, and buttons in one-piece speed, with pearl. Long bloused sleeves, a concession to the season's slim silhouette, have the same hip-narrowing effect as widened shoulders. Lilly Dache's white felt hat and the white gloves may be alternated with red or green accessories to herald the first robin, or, for use right now, with navy or black. Newer and softer in line than the shirtwaister, this type of simple crepe in solid color, print or stripes is an all-purpose dress needed in every wardrobe.

Have you folded your bandages?

Tho I am just a piece of gauze, I mean so very much. Please keep me sanitary as I feel your gentle touch. Preserve the freshness that is mine and keep me neat and clean, For men upon the battle field will know how much I mean. To women of this Red Cross group, I need the best of care. Important is the task I have when reaching "over there." The aids you have to beauty are now things to set aside. The work you do, beyond a doubt, will be your greatest pride; I must pass inspection where inspection really counts, It is my task to bandage wounds each day the total mounts. Tho I am just a piece of gauze, I need the best of care. Important is the task I have. Please send me with prayer.

John "Bud" Packham.

The monthly quota for the Chicago chapter of Red Cross, of which Arlington Heights is a part is 2,000,000 bandages a month. Have you folded your share?

There is plenty of room in the surgical dressing room at the field house for more workers and there is work to be done. Come on Monday, Tuesday or Thursday and help fill this quota.

Fidelis circle anniversary
held Tuesday

A large group attended the meeting of the Fidelis circle of the Arlington Heights Methodist church Tuesday evening, which met in the church parlor, to honor the sixteenth year of the society's organization.

The program "Fidelis, Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow," was presented by a group of old and new members and included a history of the organization, talks by charter members and by new members.

Mrs. B. T. Best, who was president of the organization for fifteen years, gave a talk on "Memories of Fidelis," and had many mementos of various activities of the group to display. She recalled some of the early projects of the group which no doubt are remembered by many of the village folk. The Pageant of Brides will be especially remembered for many local people took part, either by loaning their wedding gown for some model to wear, or by modeling it themselves. More than a hundred gowns were modeled at the pageant which was put on with all the splendor of a wedding. The society will also be remembered for its many amateur plays and other activities which it has sponsored.

It has always had a large and active membership, and is open to all women interested in the work of the church.

A social hour and refreshments followed the program. The hostesses for the evening were Miss Florence Smith and Miss Harriet Roney.

LIFE WITH MOTHER

January 21, 1944

Dr. Hutchin's "Chicago Plan," and enter college at fifteen!

Speaking of morale builders, I can't think of a better one than that pink feathered concoction you described as a hat in your last letter! Do you suppose I'll ever see you wear it?

Right at the moment, I could use a morale builder myself, though it would have to be something other than a hat, since I managed to buy one just before Christmas.

I'm discouraged because I'm literally sick and tired of all the colds that your family and my family, and nearly everyone else I know, is having these days. Here we have what is termed an "open winter" with plenty of sunshine, yet we're all ill!

George and Edward have been in this week with bronchial infections. Edward is up today, but George will have to remain in bed until the weekend, in order to be well enough to return to school Monday. I have been trying to help him with his school assignments, thereby making some surprising discoveries about required study of the fourth grade in our school.

We've been to the surface of the moon in his Social Science book to Arabia in his Geography, to Boston with Paul Revere in the Reader, studied the "dry" and other measures, divided 99 cents into 7 groups, and learned to spell (we hope) such words as language, believe, attached, pleasant, crowded and supposed. He is also required to place the correct punctuation and quotation marks in a paragraph in his English Usage book.

If he is able to master all this at his age, he should be ready for or a greased pan.

If you and I didn't live so far apart, I'd enjoy life much more. Do you realize that I've only seen Charlotte and J. D. when they have been asleep? And then, only the backs of their heads? It makes me sad to think I missed Charlotte's "pink party" (shades of her Mother!)

How utterly charming she must have looked walking down the stairs holding the hand of her eldest brother!

I had always planned that we would live next door to one another, and that our children would grow up together. As it is, Bob and Jack appear to be more like uncles to your children, and George and Edward hardly know them. Fate does play great tricks on us!

You mentioned in one of your letters, that you love "words" merely for themselves alone. I came across this bit of verse a few days ago in which the writer, Clara Edmunds-Hemingway, uses the words that have been declared by "experts" to be the most beautiful in the English language. They number seventeen.

Rain at Night
SILENTLY, in the early HUSH of EVENTIDE,
Come the mellow FLOWING tones
of a VIOLIN—
FOREVER like a GOLDEN
DAWN,
Or like TWILIGHT CHIMES in AUTUMN.
The rain leaves a LUMINOUS
MIST

Before the eyes;
It is a MURMURING LULLABY,
A MELODY which will lull you
Into TRANQUIL SLUMBER.

I think it is interesting that your favorite musical instrument, the "violin," and your favorite time of the day, the "dawn" are two of the words. Also, that my own favorite season, "autumn" and "melody" and my "eventide" are among the most beautiful words in our language.

I must stop my little visit with you now, and bid me to the realm of the kitchen to prepare lunch for my two youngest sons.

Love to all,

Mary.
P.S.—I am mailing you, on loan, a copy of "The House of Exile" that we received at Christmas. It is one of the most delightful, beautifully written, and instructive books on China, I have ever read. If you are not familiar with it, I feel free to recommend it to you, Estelle and Dave.

STRAIGHT FROM NEW YORK

by the Arlington Heights Health Center, Affiliated with the Tuberculosis Institute of Chicago and Cook County.

Winter discomforts common to all of us at one time or another during the cold months are chapping of the face, hands, and lips. The roughness which is so annoying is caused largely by carelessness in providing suitable protection for the skin. Many cosmetics give immediate relief, but be sure the harshness of your skin results from external causes alone, and is more or less a temporary condition.

Rough, flaky, or cracked skin may have more serious causes. Believe it or not, lack of vitamins, or rather insufficient amounts of some of the vitamin complexes may be responsible for chronic sores and cracks at the corners of the mouth or at the lip edge of the nose. We speak of "dietary deficiencies" very glibly, but such deficiency is a real problem when it does exist. For this reason consultation with the physician is always urged.

Another skin condition known as "eczema" is not only unpleasant but may be very painful. The skin is rough, "itchy" with the sensation of burning. Cracks may appear between the fingers and at the edge of the nails which offer many opportunities for infection. The skin is one of the protective arms of the body.

Simple chapping or "chapping" is easy to avoid by using a few ordinary precautions faithfully. Whether you are a man or woman, cleanse the face and neck at night by whatever method preferred, soap or cream. Use a heavier night cream in the winter and mas-

Pin-up picture for the man who "can't afford" to buy an extra war bond...

YOU'VE HEARD PEOPLE say: "I can't afford to buy an extra War Bond." Perhaps you've said it yourself... without realizing what a ridiculous thing it is to say to men who are dying.

The very least that you can do is to buy an extra $100 War Bond... above and beyond the Bonds you are now buying or had planned to buy. In fact, if you take stock of your resources, you will probably find that you can buy an extra $200... or $300... or even $500 worth of War Bonds.

Sounds like more than you "can afford"? Well, young soldiers can't afford to die, either... yet they do it when called upon. So is it too much to ask of us that we invest more of our money in War Bonds... the best investment in the world today? Is that too much to ask?

'Streamliner', Kasba, 3 foot donkeys top 'day in Africa'

Writer tells of visit to Arab city and country

Lt. Bruce Roberts, nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Jones of Arlington Heights, writes this interesting account of a trip to an Arabian city in North Africa. Though not written by a truly "local boy," Lt. Roberts' home is in Kansas, the editors feel it is well worth reading and gives a "backyard" account of Arabian life.

"This is a brief summary of a days leave somewhere in North Africa. Mr. Herron and I took leave the other day and went to a large near-by city, overlaid. For transportation we rode a French streamline train. The train was a diesel powered single streamlined coach and very nice. However, the road beds are quite rough, just about similar to the Katy railroad bed between Chanute and Parsons, Kansas.

"We rode up in the cab with the engineer which was quite a treat. Of course their throttles only have two speeds, 'stop' and 'full ahead,' and most of the time it was 'full ahead.' These crazy French engineers are much more reckless than the American engineers. Of course there are no fences in this country and the grass on the railroad track seems to be much better than elsewhere so the train constantly has to slow down while the livestock is driven off the track.

"The ride in the cab of the train was really one of the most interesting and by far the funniest experience I have ever had. There were a couple of bridges being rebuilt along the line and construction work here is quite different from the construction work we do in the states. Labor here gets only about 30 cents per day so most of the dirt moving for railroad fills is dug and shoveled by hand into little carts. These carts are drawn by either an oxen, horse, mule or donkey. The donkeys range from 2 feet tall to about 4 feet tall. It is a very peculiar and common sight to see little donkeys about 2 or 3 feet tall pulling loaded carts both here and in Sicily.

Houses are forts

"We have visited this city once before, but then we traveled by automobile. Of course along the highways you see more people and lots of small, dirty villages. The country around here is all long sloping hills with valleys about one mile wide. The better farm houses are always built in a rectangle with tall stone fences filling in the gaps and a huge gate on the entrance. It seems to be an old custom because they have always had so many bands of Arab thieves. Thus each farm house must be a fortress for protection.

"However, traveling by train was much more interesting because you cut through what you might call the back country. The Arab tents surprising enough are just as the movies picture them. One sees many herds of sheep with Arab shepherds and their small tent cities. There are lots of doby huts with straw thatched roofs and these are occupied by the middle class farmers.

"The masses of Arabs are very poor and dirty. Very few of them wear western type clothing, that is in the country. Their clothes usually consist of two or three dirty

MAC SAYS:

BY GERALD A. McELROY

It is a little less than a month until the state series of tournaments will be underway with district eliminations. The state office has just announced the district and regional groupings which are shown in an adjoining column for the tournaments of this area. There seems to be little variation from the usual grouping. Six of the Northwest Conference schools will compete in the usual Wauconda district along with St. Marys of Des Plaines and Warren of Gurnee. Last year Warren was in the regional but has been moved down to a district status this year due to the decision of Evanston to take part in the eliminations. The seven largest schools of the region go direct to the regional so the drop for Warren. To make room for Warren in the district Grant of Fox Lake has been sent to the Woodstock regional. The only other Northwest team not at Wauconda is Bensenville's strong Bisons who go to Hinsdale in a powerful district with the host school the favorite.

Ela downs

Antioch, 38-26

Ela marches on. At Antioch last Friday Wesner's championship bound team turned back their seventh straight conference opponents 38-26 without much trouble. Ela led 10-6, 23-14, and 38-19 at the quarter intervals. J. Ladd and Holland each collected 13 points for Ela's total. Nielsen had 11 and Wilhelmi 10 for Antioch.

Antioch easily won the light-weight game 34-14.

Wildcats beat Leyden, 33-25

Libertyville defeated Leyden in both games last Friday at Franklin Park. Minus the services of their star guard, Erickson, in the varsity game the Wildcats did not look impressive, but good shooting by Boyes, who got 15 points, kept Libertyville well ahead all the way.

The Cats led 12-4 at the half and pulled away 24-11 in the third period. Mazulla was high for Leyden with 12 points including two charity tosses. It was the last game for Libertyville's center, Al Kristan, who has been drafted.

Palatine is the only varsity team in the Northwest Conference which has hit more than half of their free throws in the first seven conference games. Their percentage is 54.8. Six Pirates have made more than half their attempts. C. Vogt has 10-15, M. Vogt 12-19, Douglas 7-11, Herr 13-23, Oitenhoff 10-18, and Linneman 4-7.

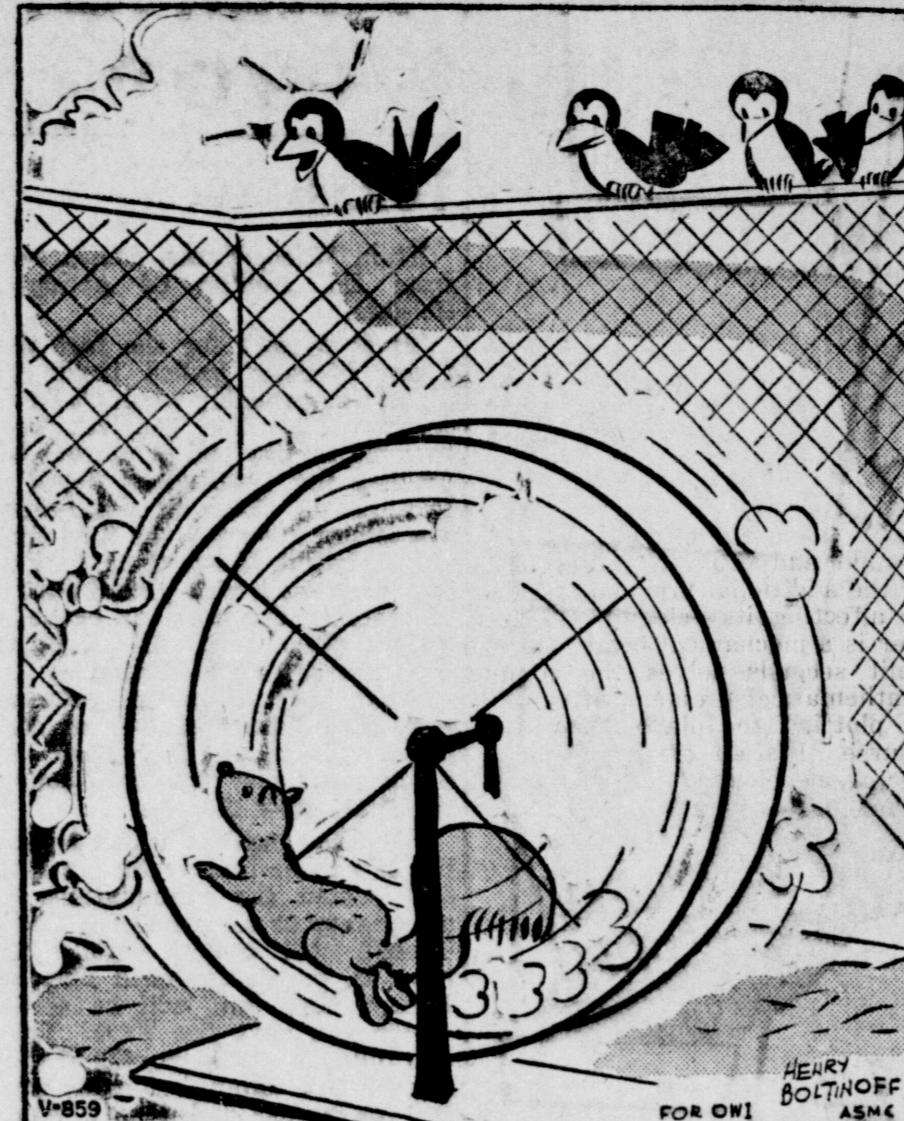

Palatine has another unusual record of having been charged with the greatest number of fouls in a single game and the least in the same season and with one of the same officials on both games. Palatine was called but three times for fouling in the Bensenville game last Friday for a league record. In the Barrington game they won in spite of 27 fouls charged against them, another season record. Palatine's 64 points against Northbrook was a season high among Northwest teams and their measly 12 against Wauconda in the conference tourney was a low point for league teams. This all adds up to a very inconsistent season.

Shoppe leads Bisons

Each week the scoring leader of the Bensenville Bisons changes as all five varsity players are bunched so closely in the point columns. This week Shoppe, only junior member of the five moves in front with 53 points in league games followed by Standard 48, Scholman 47, Benham 42, and Kernats 39.

Broncs beat Arlington 33-28; Tornadoes lose

20-5 half time deficit in rush

by JOE SMART

Arlington put on a desperate rally in the second half against Barrington last Saturday, but fell short in the final count 33-28. Trailing 10-0 and 20-5 at the respective quarters the Cards outplayed the Bronchos altogether in the second half and outpointed them 23-13 in that period.

"C.B." Botterman collected an aggregate of fifteen points, getting eleven of them in the last quarter. Aside from Botterman no other Card made more than two points. Six of them had that many. Gaulke, meanwhile, led Barrington with eleven.

The Bronchos played a slow deliberate offense in the first quarter and collected three baskets and four free shots. The Cards, however, were making simple mistakes, passing raggedly, and shooting aimlessly and they ended the first quarter with a big goose egg.

Gaulke opened the second quarter for Barrington by flipping in two field goals. Don Hamburg broke the ice for the Cards with a charity toss. Botterman and Gaulke matched free throws and then Kohler hit the Cards first basket and Hamburg followed with another penalty shot. However, Gaulke and Emerson boosted the advantage to 20-5 at the intermission.

The Cards came out after the half burning with rage and promptly began to cut down that fifteen point lead. Dahlstrom, Stroker, C. and K. Page and Botterman all made baskets with "C.B."s free throw and the Cardinals were behind only 25-16. Botterman took control of the situation in the last quarter and flipped in five push shots and another penalty toss. Kleiner got the other point on a free throw. Finally came 33-28.

Tornadoes lose 22-21

Barrington got even for an earlier one point defeat by the Tornadoes in the junior varsity game, winning 22-21. The Ponies, led by their center, Miller, took the lead early in the game and never relinquished it to the onrushing Tornadoes. Barrington rolled up a 15-11 lead at the half after having a 6-5 advantage at the quarter.

The Ponies increased the lead to 22-16, but as usual, the Green and White put on a great rally only to be halted at the gates of victory when the Ponies stalled off the last minute. Ehard was off his regular form and only collected seven points. Miller totaled eight for Barrington.

The Tornadoes played without the services of Phil Edie, regular forward, who was at his doctors.

Pirate frosh win and lose

Palatine's freshman basketball team won and lost during the past week. They beat Barrington 15-13 on Monday in a double overtime in which Kolze scored 11 points for the winners including the sudden death winning goal. Last week Palatine lost 17-12 to Arlington when the Heights team scored three baskets in the last minute of play to overcome a Palatine lead of 12-11. The Palatine team which played Monday included Kolze, Gustafson, Krelle, LeBaron, Henker, and Rogers.

Palatine has won seven out of 12 starts while Arlington has taken one decision in 10 starts. Both teams will be primed to the limit for this game. The lightweight teams of the two schools are very evenly matched and both have been having good seasons.

This week there are no games in the Northwest Conference. Bensenville, with seven straight triumphs will take on Leyden at Franklin Park in the open week before going into the home stretch of the league card against Antioch, Ela, and Northbrook. Last time Leyden won a 37-35 thriller from the Bisons, but the latter are hitting a faster pace right now.

Bisons in double win over Pirates

Kernats & Co. notch 36-24, 16-8 victories

Huffman and Ernsting of Bensenville was an important factor in the victory. Palatine beat the junior Bisons 15-12 in their first meeting.

The defeat left Palatine's lights a game behind Barrington and Antioch and they must win their three remaining tilts with Grant, Wauconda and Barrington to have a chance at a tie for the title.

Gives vivid account of troop ship in Pacific crossing

"—like a rabbit running across a field—" Murphy

Describing a trip across the Pacific in a troop transport this week is Bill Murphy, well-known around Arlington Heights. In civilian life Bill was the manager of the Des Plaines Walgreen store, though many of his friends live in the Heights.

Bill entered the service at Camp Grant in October of '42. He received much of his training in the medical corps on a Gulf of Mexico island. He was then sent to Australia, and is now stationed in New Guinea.

"When we arrived at the POE after several days on a train, it was late at night and we were dead tired and very dirty, but as soon as we detrained we were told to strip and get a physical inspection, dirty as we were. We went through that mill like automobiles through a production line. No supper.

"Next morning we faced the realities of a sea voyage and were instructed on how to leave a sinking ship, etc. One of the stunts we had to learn was how to enter or leave a ship at sea quickly. We had to scale a thirty foot wall climbing up one side and down the other wearing complete equipment—full pack and helmets, etc.

At sea

"Soon we were processed and marched aboard a boat to take us to the big ship. Besides our packs, etc., each had a large barracks bag which we sat on. The decks were packed solid—one man's knees against another's back. By and by lunches were sent up. Paper bags with sandwiches and cake and fruit and even a little box of candy and two packages of cigarettes and two candy bars.

"As yet I haven't received the Herald. The last one I received was around Nov. 16, but maybe they will soon catch up with me. I hope. Surely do like to hear about all the fellas I know in good old Arlington."

His address is Pfc. John C. Heidemann, Corps. Rep. Bn., c/o Fleet Postoffice, San Francisco, California.

"Every compartment was packed to the gills. We slept in bunks two feet wide and six feet long and three deep and head to foot and aisles only two feet wide. To get in our bunks we had to ease ourselves in sideways and the next bed was only about a foot above us and the aisles were filled with barracks bags and equipment.

"The next morning about nine we had a meal, many thousands of men to be fed—twice a day. Eventually we reach the mess hall—choice of two things to eat for breakfast. Boiled beans or cold oatmeal without milk or sugar and black coffee. Take your choice and remember you won't eat again until four in the afternoon. Afterwards our rations included meat, but of very coarse quality. The smell of thousands of men in a closed place and cooking and washing dishes and pots and pans was terrific.

"During the day we were allowed to come upon deck and get a breath of air every now and then, but the decks were crowded—hardly a square foot of unoccupied space. We were lucky in that there were no storms on our voyage.

Make trip alone

"We made the voyage alone and depended on our speed and guns for our safety. Never did I realize before how large the ocean was—day after day and never see anything but water—not even another ship. We stayed out of their way. Men get used to such things quickly, but they know how a rabbit feels running across a field full of hunters."

Pilot Boards Life Raft

OFFICIAL U. S. NAVY PHOTOGRAPH.
One-man rubber life rafts are standard equipment in all Navy single-seat fighters. The raft is packed and stowed below the turtle back immediately behind the pilot's seat. After a landing at sea, the pilot pulls out the raft, turns the valve on the bottle of carbon dioxide, and the raft inflates in 1 minute. To get onto the raft, the pilot grabs the opposite side and throws himself horizontally across the boat.

Kansas

From Manhattan, Kansas, comes word of Albert McDougall of Arlington Heights.

"The army life sure has been swell and I don't mind it one bit. There is one thing for sure and that is that I would rather be back at Jefferson Barracks than being going to school here at State College. The life around here is as good as can be expected. I had turkey for Christmas and New Years, plus a little French wine. The beer is no good, but the champagne and wine are swell."

"Only kind of people I meet here are Arabs and French. The scenery is beautiful and is something I'll never forget. The boat trip across was ok with plenty of water. A guy doesn't know how well off he is until he puts a few miles of water between himself and home and female."

His address is Cadet Albert L. McDougall, AST Unit 3710 Quarters B 1221 Thurston, Manhattan, Kansas.

New Caledonia

Writing from New Caledonia is John Heidemann of Mt. Prospect.

"They have movies here every night. The first night I was here they had 'Best Foot Forward' with Lucille Ball, and the next night 'Top Man' with Donald O'Connor. They had a USO show also which I enjoyed a lot.

Everything here is as good as can be expected. I had turkey for Christmas and New Years, plus a little French wine. The beer is no good, but the champagne and wine are swell."

"As you all have a lot to fight for and I know I will be coming back when this is all over. All of us are just realizing what we are fighting for."

"I'm still in the best of health and ready and willing to do anything that comes up here. I often think of the folks back home and are sure they are going to do their part in the fourth war bond drive."

"Haven't received the Palatine yet. It's a bit slow in getting here, but it finally makes it. It is always welcome regardless of age. I tried to look up a couple of fellows while in New Caledonia, but their address wasn't complete enough, so I failed."

"The natives here are much friendlier than in the last place. That means quite a bit. There will never be a place on any of these islands for me once I get back to the suburbs of Chicago. There is nothing like a bit of snow for Christmas. It seemed more like the 4th than Christmas out here. This war surely can't last forever."

Elijah J. Fenton of 419 Ioka Ave., Mt. Prospect, who recently enlisted in the WAVES of the Navy, has been promoted to specialist technician third class, following her graduation from the Link Instrument Trainer Instructor's School at the Naval Air Station, Atlanta, Ga. This was announced by Commander E. G. Scarratt. WAVES Fenton has been assigned to active duty at the Naval Air Station, Corpus Christi, Texas.

The 18 weeks' course at the AAF Training Command base covers instruction in the four methods of aerial navigation: dead reckoning, pilotage, celestial and radio, and each student flies more than 15,000 miles in twin-engined training planes to gain practical experience.

Lieut. and Mrs. O'Hagan arrived in Arlington Saturday to spend a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. O'Hagan. A group of friends of Bob were guests in the O'Hagan home Saturday evening, and Sunday thirty six relatives from Chicago, Aurora and the vicinity were guests of the O'Hagans to greet the new Lieut. and his bride.

Lieut. and Mrs. O'Hagan left Wednesday for Fort Dix, New Jersey and a new assignment.

Captain Robert A. Kruse of Wheeling stopped in Chicago for several hours on Monday en route to Kansas City, Mo., on a fifteen day leave. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kruse met the train to spend the short time visiting.

"First, I would like to express my appreciation for all the news of the old home town which gets to me weekly, somehow. Your column 'With Uncle Sam' has created quite an interest and proves a means of discovering where most of the boys are, and what they find of interest away from the good old U.S.A."

"My address is again changing for I'm at present located on the east coast. Capt. R. A. Kruse, 3447 FA PM, APO 90, Fort Dix, New Jersey.

"Am continuing to look forward to the weekly issue of the Home Town newspaper."

Capt. Kruse recently transferred to Fort Dix, New Jersey, following desert maneuvers. His wife is making her home with her parents for the duration, and here's a secret: Bob is hoping very much that "Dr. Stork" will call during his stay with his family.
